

Woodhurst In Bloom News Update

GREAT TURNOUT FOR LAUNCH EVENT!

Over 30 people joined the 'Walk Around Woodhurst' on 30th March. Organized to mark the start of this year's 'Woodhurst-In-Bloom' campaign, the walk paused at Ridges Pond in South Street, to plant a new willow tree. The afternoon was really made by Shirley Firth's tales of by-gone Woodhurst. We learned of the history of numerous buildings, hearing stories of the influential families, untimely deaths, suspicious fires, lost family fortunes, crimes and punishments of the inhabitants of Woodhurst over the last few hundred years. A fascinating afternoon – so a huge THANK YOU to Shirley!

Thank you also, to those of you who completed questionnaires. This has given us a good steer on the types of activities people are interested in.

SUNSHINE AND SHOWERS!

A small working party braved the weather last Sunday to weed and edge the beds outside Church Bungalows and remove grass overgrowing the path. Now these beds are showing their spring colours at their best for everyone to enjoy. Next up in the maintenance schedule are the beds opposite the pond.

SUGGESTION BOX

The Woodhurst In Bloom suggestion box is kept in the Church porch, so if you have an idea that we might be able to implement please leave it there.... The suggestion box will be in the village hall for the pub night on 25th April, so if you're coming along please feel free to make a suggestion.

UPCOMING EVENTS

We have plenty of things going on, that you can enjoy or help with – see the village newsletter for more details.
