

Mrs. Asplin Adams, of George-street, St. Ives, who kept her ninetieth birthday on Thursday. Despite her age, she is still in possession of all her faculties and still enjoys good health. The old lady, who resides with an unmarried daughter, lost her husband about ten years ago. She is a native of Woodhurst, but has lived in St. Ives for many years. For forty years Mr. and Mrs. Asplin Adams kept the house in the Ramsey-road, now a private dwelling, which was formerly known as the Carpenters' Arms. In the photograph, which was taken about two years ago, she is seen with her pet dog.
